The National Service Scheme of Higher Secondary Education Department has 400 units spread across the State. It is dream like to feel that there are forty thousand chosen adolescent volunteers bubbling with enthusiasm enrolled in its fold. Their potential is ever ready to be translated for common good and for national reconstruction.

Channelising the abundant energy and service mind of this wonderful group in an ideal way is no easy business. Our Programme Officers and Principals need a good training to ventilate the quest of our vibrant volunteers and to keep their units dynamic.

Hence, it is decided to plan and provide Quality Management Training to Principals, Programme Officers and other NSS functionaries at unit and district level for the year a head. The NSS Cell of the Directorate and State Institute of Educational Management and Training (SIEMAT), Kerala is planning jointly to hold a one-day Training Need Analysis workshop to be conducted among Programme Officers four each from different districts.

The District Convenors and three other Programme Officers/Principals from their district are directed to attend the workshop to be held at 'Maria Rani Centre', Sreekaryam, Thiruvananthapuram at 9.00am on 10 March 2010. The District Convenors may propose the names of other participants from their district and inform the Programme Co-ordinator before 3 March 2010. They are directed to attend the workshop with their team members sufficiently early. Suggestion papers prepared to be presented is highly appreciated.
